

Business and Transaction Practice

Liles Parker is a boutique law firm that handles business and transaction matters across many industries for clients. Some of our clients are large corporations, some are start-ups -- the majority however are middle market clients who seek to have their transactional work handled cost-effectively by experienced and practical partners and associates.

Liles Parker's founding partners practiced for many years at recognized national law firms. Liles Parker is organized and managed to provide the same sophisticated representation but without the cost-drivers present at large firms.

Our clients hire us with the confidence their transactions will be handled expertly by our small group of talented professionals. Liles Parker offers value to our clients -- good corporate counsel who won't take the "profit" out of your transaction.

Our partners have broad-based corporate and transactional experience over many combined years of practice. We handle mergers and acquisitions, capital formation transactions, debt and equity finance, commercial real estate matters, technology transactions and general corporate matters.
