

Health Care

Liles Parker attorneys have the litigation experience, health care regulatory knowledge, and counseling skills necessary to efficiently resolve health care issues at the lowest possible level, before they escalate into a more significant problem. Our attorneys regularly represent physicians, practice groups, clinics, home health agencies, nursing homes, assisted living facilities, intermediate care facilities, durable medical equipment suppliers, third-party billing companies, practice management groups and other health care providers in connection with Federal, State and /or private payor audits, compliance issues and health care transactional needs

A number of our attorneys have held significant positions in the U.S. Department of Justice (including serving as the first National Health Care Fraud Coordinator for the Executive Office for U.S. Attorneys) and as attorneys at the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), now known the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. Additionally, other attorneys in the Firm have worked as State prosecutors and / or public defenders.
